

Her major research interests are in the field of breast diagnostic ultrasound imaging. She has published several peer-reviewed papers focused primarily on the assessment of breast diseases.